SPINNEWEBER ALLOWED $748.78

For Damage to Auto Truck in Port Ewen Accident—Husbrook Seeks to Recover For Hay Sold to Grace Van B. Roberts.

The jury in the case of Fred Spinneweber against Merritt Every this morning brought in a verdict in the sum of $748.78 for plaintiff. The action was brought as a result of an automobile accident south of the village of Port Ewen when the Spinneweber car and the Every car came together.

After selecting a jury in the action brought by J. D. B. Hasbrouck and others against Grace Van B. Roberts of Highland, the remainder of the panel was excused for the term.

The Hasbrouck-Roberts case is a dispute over the sale of a quantity of hay on the Hasbrouck farm near New Paltz. Bruyn Hasbrouck, trustee of the Hasbrouck estate at that place, in 1918 had a quantity of hay on the farm for sale. He made arrangements with Miss Roberts to purchase the hay at $22 per ton, she to hire some one to haul it to her farm south of Highland where she is engaged in the dairy business.

According to Mr. Hasbrouck's testimony he called Miss Roberts on the telephone and stated that he had some hay for sale. She informed him that she wanted nothing but good hay as she was engaged in the production of certified milk and her cows would not eat inferior quality hay. He told her to come to see the hay, as he did not know about the quality. She came to his place and examined the hay and agreed to take it.

There was a delay in delivering the hay owing to Mr. Hasbrouck not being able to have it baled. After some of the hay had been delivered Miss Roberts informed him that the hay was not of the high quality that she desired and she would take no more of it.

Mr. Hasbrouck seeks to recover in the neighborhood of $600 for the hay delivered and the cost of delivering it which he has paid.

Miss Roberts claims that he told her that the hay was of good quality and that when she went to his place and examined the hay she found it of good quality but that it did not measure up to the sample when delivered.

Some of the hay it is claimed came in different kinds of bales and was of inferior quality, apparently not the same hay as she saw when she came to the farm early in the fall.

John W. Eckert appears for Mr. Hasbrouck and Judge John G. Van Etten for defendant. The case will be completed this afternoon and submitted to the jury.

OTHER WOMAN IN CHAPLIN CASE

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 19.—"The other woman" loomed today as a possibility in the marital discord between Charles Chaplin, famous film comedian, and his young wife, Mildred Harris Chaplin, who flatly laid the blame of her unhappiness on the door of "a woman Charlie knew before he married me."

In the event of Chaplin bringing suit for divorce, Mrs. Chaplin indicated she would contest the action with a counter suit, naming a "co-respondent."

"There is another woman back of all this," Mrs. Chaplin charged with tears in her eyes. "It is a woman he used to go with before he knew me. That is why, since he has no grounds to get a divorce from me, that he is trying to compel me to divorce him."

"I still love Charlie to death," the young star protested. "But I don't want to hold a man who doesn't want to be held. And if he files suit and insists on dragging my name about, I shall have to defend myself and I shall publicly what I know."

Chaplin has left the city, presumably by seaplane for Catalina Islands.

Numerous pitched battles are reported to have taken place in the mining and industrial region of Rhenish Prussia.

Armed mobs were said to be marching upon Erfurt in Prussian Saxony, and Memingen.

"Chaos continues in Germany, especially in the Ruhr mining district."

"At Berlin the Spartacists are maintaining troops and have suspended their co-operation with Bauer (chancellor of the Ebert government) pending proof that he will carry out the Communist demands."

DYING AFTER GUN BATTLE

Negro In Cellar of Baltimore House Holds Police At Bay For Hours—Seven Whites And Blacks Wounded And Lynching Is Narrowly Prevented.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Baltimore, Md., March 19.—In a sensational gun-battle, which threatened to assume the proportions of a race riot here early today, two policemen were shot, a negro is dying in a hospital with hundreds of wounds inflicted by shot-guns in his body, another negro badly wounded and narrowly escaped lynching, and four other persons were felled by bullets.

The trouble started when the negro who is dying and the negro who is wounded attacked a white man in the down town section of the city. The two negroes were captured after having shot and badly wounding two policemen. One of the negroes broke away from his captors and barricaded himself in a cellar on West Saratoga street and held a hundred policemen, scores of firemen and citizens at bay for several hours. Fusillades of shots were fired into the cellar through windows and down the stairways. It was impossible to penetrate the depths of the cellar.

The negro's refuge was in the cellar of the house at 507 West Saratoga street, occupied by Oliver Kirk, his wife and six children. The family, awakened by the shooting, fled to the street in their night clothing. On recovering from his first fright and incensed, Kirk asked permission of the police to explode a dynamite bomb in the cellar to rout the negro out. This was refused.

A platoon of police answered a riot call and finally an acetylene lamp was rigged up in front of the street and threw its rays into the cellar. The police also commandeered the headlights from several automobiles, whose drivers had been attracted to the scene by the sound of continuous fire of guns. When the police entered the cellar, they found the negro, his body badly riddled with bullets, but still alive, and rushed him to a hospital.

SKY THE LIMIT

On Illinois Prices—Government Indifferent Says Sprague.

Chicago, March 19.—The sky will be the limit on the prices food dealers in Illinois will be permitted to charge after April 1, according to the present outlook. Blaming the government for indifference, Major A. A. Sprague II. and Mrs. Joseph T. Bowman, heads of the state fair price commission, have resigned. It was known today.

This virtually means the collapse of the commission. Major Sprague declared that the backing given the commission to wage the fight against high prices was wholly inadequate and would not permit of success.

Winter Troubles In Schoharie

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Preston Hollow and other villages in Schoharie county, during the past month have been without mail for eight days because of snow and water filling the roads. One farmer at Cooksburry was unable to reach his stock without a detour of seven miles. The water around Manorsville, Schoharie, caused much damage. Three important bridges were swept away by the flood. Farmers were left many instances compelled to leave their stock from the barns, which were inundated with water. Schools were compelled to close, as pupils could not travel the roads. The shortage of food and groceries caused much concern, and inability to produce wood added to the plight.

Call Central Rate Illegal

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

The present charge of three cents per mile charged by the New York Central is illegal, according to Attorney General Charles D. Newton, who has investigated the situation and finds that the railroad has, under its charter, no power to charge more than two cents per mile. Unless the railroad succeeds in having the 1920 legislature pass a bill amending the company's charter, proceedings will be started immediately after the session to compel the railroad to reduce its rate to that stipulated by statute.

MAY NOT VOTE ON TREATY TODAY

Unless Closure Is Adopted Second Defeat of Ratification, Owing to Senators' Desire to Orate, May Not Come Until Tomorrow—Majority Are Weary of Whole Proceedings.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, March 19.—At the end of four months attempts to patch up a compromise of fruitless speech-making, conferences and political jockeying—the senate was confronted today with precisely the same situation that it faced on November 19 when the peace treaty of Versailles went down to defeat.

A second defeat for the treaty, with a coalition of "irreconcilables" and administration Democrats again voting against ratification, was regarded as inevitable by leaders of all factions in the long drawn out, bitterly contested fight that started weeks before President Wilson presented the treaty to the senate on July 10 last.

A final burst of oratorical pyrotechnics will precede the vote on the resolution of ratification embodying the Lodge reservations, Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, the administration's treaty manager, and his adherents, still refuse to accept it.

At the end of another battle which lasted until late last night, an unsuccessful move was made by Senator Reed, Democrat, of Missouri, to limit speech making today to an hour for each senator. Senator Hitchcock expressed a willingness that speeches be each restricted to half an hour or less. Senator Hoke Smith, Democrat, of Georgia, announced his intention of talking for at least an hour today, and as other senators gave notice of such oratorical efforts by them, the efforts of Hitchcock and Reed to choke off unlimited eleventh hour discussion fell by the wayside.

Senator Lodge, the Republican leader, sought to unanimously fix 3 p. m. for a final vote on ratification, but Senator Lenroot, of Wisconsin, objected. Senator Lodge was only able to persuade the senate to meet at 11 o'clock this morning, instead of at the customary noon hour. He declared it to be his intention, however, to hold the senate in continuous session until late tonight, if necessary, in an effort to force final action, despite the new verbal onslaughts, proponents and opponents of the treaty were prepared to make up each other.

Unless closure is again adopted by the necessary two-thirds vote, no rule of the senate will stand however in the way of final action being delayed until tomorrow, or next week, by lengthy speeches. The only hope that a final show down may come unexpectedly is in the fact that most senators are utterly weary of the treaty and even the most loquacious and argumentative of them may finally tire of a subject about which so many hundreds of thousands of words have been babbled.

Another hitch may also develop in the failure thus far to provide pairs for all absentee senators, although Republican and Democratic leaders are working to adjust pairs to overcome this situation today, so that it will not prevent an agreement being reached on a final vote.

ENTIRE COLONIAL LINE LOSES MONEY

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Albany, March 19.—In the petition filed by the Kingston Consolidated Railroad Company, asking the public service commission, second district, to approve the abandonment of the Colonial line on Washington avenue, it is alleged by the company that the Colonial line has not earned operating expenses and is still being operated at a deficit of many thousands of dollars and by reason of such deficit arising from operation of said Colonial line operation of the entire system and property of your petitioner results in a loss.

It is further alleged for the best interests of the company and Kingston and its inhabitants that the entire Colonial line be abandoned, but the company says it is reluctant to apply for this relief but simply asks the right to abandon the part least patronized and on which there is the largest deficit in operating expenses, abandonment of which will inconvenience the smallest number of people.

The company claims that while the Colonial line will still be operated at a loss, the proposed abandonment will result in a saving of about $10,000 and the necessity for abandoning the entire Colonial line will be postponed and perhaps permanently avoided.

It is claimed people in Washington avenue and adjacent streets made but little use of that part proposed to be abandoned; there has been no increase in travel in 15 years and no prospect of increase, many cars operating daily on the line without patrons. While conditions have been aggravated by the war, the company says, they have also been due in part to the tendency anterior to the war to higher wages, decreased working hours and higher prices for all materials, and conditions promise to be worse rather than better in the future.

The commission will give a public hearing upon the company's application at an early date.

CLUBWOMEN TO PAY PLEDGE

Of $300 for Home for Aged—Other Matters Discussed—Rev. Mabry to Address Public Meeting March 27.

At the executive committee meeting of the Federation of Women's Clubs, held at the Kingston City Library on Thursday afternoon, it was arranged to pay the pledge of $300 to the Home for the Aged; reports were heard and considerable business was transacted. Mrs. Frank Thompson, president, presided.

Following the reading of the minutes by the secretary, Mrs. Paley, the treasurer, Mrs. Leighton, reported the total receipts from the Lusk lecture to be $292.50, with the expenses $14.72. As there was $48.98 in the treasury, it was voted to at once make payment of the pledge of the $300 pledged by the federation for the sum of $300 for the Home for the Aged. A vote of thanks was given the treasurer for her untiring efforts to have the finances of the Lusk lecture promptly closed up, a considerable task, considering the number of persons selling the tickets for the same.

It was also voted to pay the state federation dues.

In response to the continued appeals from the government concerning the "thrift" movement, Miss Ellen Van Slyke was made thrift chairman for the federation.

The Lowell Club reported, in addition to its regular literary work, the donation of $5 toward the making of quilts for the Home for the Aged, and also the making of another quilt.

Mrs. Thompson reported a communication received from Miss Mary E. Dwyer, chairman of the joint legislative committee, asking that the federation hold a meeting to hear reports relative to the eight hour law for women, the minimum wage and health insurance. It was the sense of the meeting that inasmuch as these bills had been fully presented at a recent meeting of the League for Women Voters in this city, both for and against, it would not be convenient to call such a meeting at this time.

Mrs. Rice reported for the committee of the federation appointed to confer with the Chamber of Commerce committee relative to some community center for the young women of the city, and she read from a copy of the Freeman the account of the recent meeting of the joint committees. Considerable discussion followed regarding the relative merits of a Y. W. C. A. and a community house.

Mrs. Gray, chairman of the Near East Relief committee, read several letters asking for aid, and reported the formation of a committee, appointed by the mayor for the furtherance of this work. Newton Fessenden is the chairman and Mrs. Frank Thompson the vice chairman. This committee, of which Mrs. Gray is chairman, will report more fully at the open meeting of the federation which will occur on March 27.

Announcement was made that the Monday Club would entertain the federation at its next open meeting at the chapel of the First Dutch Church, at which time the Rev. Father Mabry, rector of Holy Cross Church, will be the speaker. His subject will be "Democracy in France," and as he spent much time in France during the war, he will bring special interest to an already interesting subject. Both men and women of the community are invited to hear Father Mabry on Saturday afternoon, March 27, at 3 o'clock, at the chapel of the First Dutch Church. With this announcement, the meeting closed.

SPARTACISTS NOW CHIEF FOES OF EBERT REGIME

Open Warfare in Ruhr District Only—National Assembly Meets Monday to Deal With Situation—1,000 Dead in Fighting So Far—Von Kapp and Von Luitwilt Missing—Jews Attacked in Berlin.

By The International News Service.

The Ruhr district of western Prussia, containing great coal fields and rich industrial centers, has become the danger spot in Germany today. Open warfare is reported to have broken out there between the Spartacists and troops and violent battles have taken place, accompanied by heavy casualties.

Armed workers supporting the Spartacist movement continue their struggle against the troops elsewhere and the members of local soviets proclaimed in the industrial and agricultural regions is increasing.

The constitutional government headed by President Friedrich Ebert is expected to be re-established at Berlin within the next day or two, but it is likely that a reorganization of the cabinet will be necessary to placate the independent Socialists, who are demanding the dismissal of Minister of Defense Gustav Noske.

The National Assembly has been summoned to meet in Berlin Monday to take constitutional measures to deal with the situation.

No further fighting has been reported from Berlin since last Thursday, when the retiring revolutionary troops fired upon crowds near the Adlon Hotel, killing a score or more. This shooting was done by the Baltic brigade, (the iron division) which had been supporting the fallen Von Kapp-Von Luitwilt regime.

Reports of fresh casualties continue to be received from all parts of Germany.

It is estimated that already more than 1,000 persons have been killed in fighting and that twice that number have been wounded.

The Baltic troops, whose rifles and bayonets had lifted Von Kapp and Von Luitwilt into power last Saturday, were still in a defiant mood when they left Berlin and their future actions cannot be foreseen. They are now back in their barracks at Doberitz.

It was reported that the danger of the occupation of Berlin by Spartacist troops had been lessened by discussions among the leaders, but while the communist movement may thus have been weakened at Berlin it is apparently stronger than ever outside of that city.

Fresh complications have been added to the turbulent situation in Berlin by an anti-Jewish outbreak. Jews were attacked by crowds in the streets of Berlin.

There is no confirmation of reports that Von Kapp and Von Luitwilt have committed suicide and they are doubted. The whereabouts of both have not yet been revealed in their flight.

Extended remarks were made by Mayor Canfield, Chairman Fessenden, Mrs. Gordon Reel, Postmaster DeWitt, Mrs. Haldane and Miss Margaret Ruseley.

James A. Lavery, publicity director of the Poughkeepsie district, was called upon and said in part, as follows:

"Mr. Chairman and members of the committee:

"Don't let anyone tell you that you are on a cold trail when you ask for contributions of their time or money for Armenia. Remind them that the trail is much colder in Armenia where the stars and mountains meet, where the thermometer drops to 50 below zero; where little children cry for bread, where people go blind as a result of starvation; where even soldiers who have withstood the horrors of war and the rigors of terrible campaigns, are unable to look upon the misery of Armenia and still be sane."

"You have had the experiences this winter in Ulster county of impassable snow-bound roads, but your very worst roads here, would and could be called the best in Armenia. The men and women whom the world respects and admires are the men and women who do not shrink from the burdens of leadership. They are the ones who have the confidence of their followers, typified by the officers elected by the Kingston Near East relief committee."

"All sorts of objections, excuses and reasons will be given to explain the inability to contribute to this most worthy cause; in behalf of the oldest Christian nation in the world, I have prepared a little dialogue to offset that. It may help you over the rough spots."

A Little Dialogue.
Mr. Grouch—I don't see why I should be called upon to part with my good money to take care of a lot of Near Easterners over there.

Mr. Near East Friend—You don't! Did you see any reason to buy Liberty Bonds? Do you see any reason why the U. S. should pay its own debts? Would you advocate neglecting the wounded soldiers and our doughboys who suffered to maintain our liberties and to put an end to the world war?

Mr. Grouch—Why? I did my bit to the best of my ability but what has that got to do with the Near East problem; and why am I called upon to help them?

Mr. Near East Friend—You think the war is over. You are glad to be back to your own business. You are no doubt thankful to know that no more of our own true boys are dying over there. You are mighty glad that you don't have to scrape and scrimp to save for Liberty Bonds. You are thanking your lucky stars that the draft didn't reach 45 and that you did not have to go to war, but do you know what it was that put an end to the war? Do you know why it was that Germany laid down her arms when she did? Perhaps you think that it was the tremendous weight of our own American part in the war. We helped, but do you know what General Ludendorff the brains of the German army says brought it all about? General Ludendorff says the defeat of Germany is due to her failure to reach the great supplies of oil in the Baku oil fields, and it was the little Armenian army which saved those oil fields for the allied cause. Now, Mr. Grouch, please figure out if you can, what would have happened if it had not been for the Armenian army? We ask you to give a few dollars to save the life of a starving child of an Armenian veteran, whose death has saved you and thousands of others like you more money than you can possibly calculate, whose death perhaps saved your life. When you have time sit down and count up the possible cost to the world of a German victory, brought about through the possession of those same oil fields, and then tell me if you dare that you do not owe every cent which we ask of you to this cause. We don't ask you Mr. Grouch to give, but to pay your honest debts to a nation that has given its life to save you and the rest of the world.

Mr. Lavery then quoted General Ludendorff, the brains of the German army, what he thought of the Armenian soldiers. General Limon von Sanders, the German commander in Turkey; Islam Pasha, the Turkish commander; General Allenby, the English leader who captured Jerusalem from the Turks with the aid of Armenian soldiers; Sir Robert Cecil and former Russian premier, Kerensky, all of whom admitted and conceded the valor, bravery and courage of the Armenian soldiers.

PARIS TURNS TO OLD-TIME IDEAS

Flounces and Flares Are Featured in Spring and Summer Models.

TAFETTA STILL HOLDS SWAY

Material Has Been Softened Until It Has Become Almost Like Satin—Suits Have Hems of Lace.

French dressmakers are turning their attention to old-fashioned materials as well as to old-time designs. This is evinced, notes a Paris fashion writer, in the showing of spring and summer models in Paris. Never before has taffeta, a very old-fashioned material, enjoyed such a long and pronounced vogue.

Fabric makers are improving taffeta. The only real objection to it in times gone by was that its stiffness made difficult the task of evolving graceful models. Now taffeta is being made thin and soft like satin, some of it having a highly glazed surface. Then it is being embroidered in various ways. Especially interesting among the new taffetas is one that has a coin dot embroidered in bright colors.

Paris is adopting these new taffetas, and a great many mid-season models are being made of this fabric. A frock developed from a quality known as diamantine in a soft gray is embroidered in ruffia strands that are not dyed but treated by a process of glycerin finish which makes them as pliable as silk.

Fur is Used at Random. To make these taffeta dresses more becoming the Paris dressmakers often line the collar and cuffs with a soft fur, such as petit gris. The fact that fur is becoming more expensive every day does not deter the French couturier from making what might seem to the casual observer unnecessary and unreasonable use of this precious trimming.

Madeline et Madeleine have made a taffeta dress that takes somewhat the form of a draped polonaise, though frankly cut in two pieces. The waistline is low and loose-fitting and the draped skirt is joined to it under a group of minute tucks which extend across the center of the back and front only. A similar group of tucks gives fullness across the bust line; these tucks stop short of the armhole and use themselves in a sort of drooping blouse fullness.

The bodice is finished without sleeves, the armhole being surrounded by tiny points, or dents, embroidered in copper color silk. There is, how-trimmed with certain satin crepe is embroidered in gold and copper threads and dyed ruffia strands. The waistline is low, the front fastening decidedly at one side. The embroidered revers forms a round yoke at the back, which, descending over the tops of the shoulders, gives a sort of 1880 back. This model is very well thought of by mid-season buyers.

Every Frenchwoman who makes any pretense at all to a smart wardrobe includes among her dresses one of black satin regardless of what other materials may be in the limelight of fashion. Mme. Jenny has made some especially beautiful frocks of black satin for her customers to wear at the resorts, such as Nice and Monte Carlo. For these models she favors the flounced skirt. In fact, this may be said to be the most pronounced feature of her satin dresses.

These deep flounces make the entire skirt. Instead of having a hem on the bottom of the flounce, a facing of black velvet to about the depth of a hem is used. The idea of the flounced skirt comes from the French stage. Many of these stage frocks, which are having so pronounced an influence on all fashions, were designed by this great dressmaker. Gray, too, is a favorite color for satin frocks.

Three-Piece Suit, Hem of Lace.

Mme. Jenny is not the only designer who does unusual things to hems. Bullos has introduced the lace hem. He used it with good effect on a black suit, which is accompanied by a long accordion plaited cape. Both the cape and skirt have this remarkable hem, which is formed by inserting scalloped lace, the irregular side of the lace going toward the top of the garment. It is a three-piece suit, the third piece being a blouse of white broadcloth silk. It is, of course, a typical formal afternoon costume.

It is interesting to note that these three-piece costumes are even more pronounced for spring than they were for autumn. Women delight in three-piece affairs as offering a great advantage over the old-time suit consisting of a skirt and coat only, which had to be completed by a blouse picked up at random and which did not always make a good-looking dress when the coat was removed. Among the practical suits carrying out this idea are those consisting of a simple dress and a somewhat long coat rather on the order of a redingote. These are not always made of cloth; silk features prominently in these new costumes for spring.

Evening dresses are not quite as prominent in the new showings of clothes as they were in those of last season. While the elaborate evening dress is not in such general use as the short skirted dancing frock, the Paris dressmaker feels the necessity of including in her collection very dressy and extreme models developed in handsome brocades.

Hats From Paris.

Paris is experiencing a veritable craze for embroidered hats, which may be made of almost any fabric, with the embroidery of ruffia, artificial silk or metal threads. It is very smart to have an embroidered purse exactly matching the hat. The ruffia embroidery is effectively used on the underbrim of hats as a means of introducing a becoming bit of color as well as an idea that is entirely new.

The latest novelty is to use ruffia on the foundation for the embroidery. This highly glazed composition has taken Paris by storm. As a background for embroidery, the plain texture is interesting, but without ornamentation it is too much like put-on leather or oiled cloth to be becoming.

The Biggest Center.

Two young Swedish students of scenery named Wadell and Tegner, after an expedition in Iceland, have discovered what is believed to be the largest crater in the world, measuring five miles long and a quarter mile wide, and further claims to have discovered warm springs.

SCOTS SPURN SUNDAY WORK

Lord Leverhulme Finds Opposition to Plan for Great Fishing Project.

London.—Lord Leverhulme has encountered the religious prejudice of the Scotchman who live on the extensive property he has purchased in the Outer Hebrides and has suffered a rebuff. He had planned to make Stornoway, on the Island of Lewis, the headquarters of a huge fishing fleet that would sweep the seas for 300 miles around. The project involved Sunday labor, and the Islanders, who adhere to the strict and intense form of the Presbyterian faith, rejected it.

Commenting on the incident, the periodical, Common Sense, says: "Lord Leverhulme is a man of big ideas and new ideas, while the people

900,000 JEWS SERVE IN WAR

Dr. Max Nordau Says Race Lost 800,000 Dead in the Fight—Had 230,000 Casualties.

London.—Dr. Max Nordau told the English Zionist federation the other day that in the world war the Jews had furnished 900,000 soldiers to the various armies.

This, he said, was about 2 per cent of the whole number of Jews, a proportion equaled by few and surpassed only by the Indians, by the French. The Jews had lost 80,000 dead and had about 200,000 casualties.

Spreading Joy.

The joy you give others will return to you with interest. To be sure you do not help others for return. That would be mercenary and where it is practiced soon soon learn to read the motives that prompt it. The result is a lonesome man in a short time. You will give your joy for the joy it gives you to give it. You feel rewarded a hundredfold to knowing you have helped somebody. Their grateful hearts reward with overflowing gladness and gratitude. It's an under your glad. Yet it's merely the action of the old law that rewards the altruistic spirit with blessings.

Meaning of the Name Ida.

Ida and Ada are practically synonymous. In early times, however, Ada was believed to be derived from Adah, meaning ornament, and the name Adah was given to the wife of Lamech in the Old Testament. But later etymological authorities believe that Ada is merely a Latinized form of Ead, meaning happy or rich, and the same as the German Ida. Ida's gem is the turquoise.

Facts and opinions brought out at meetings of Mayor Canfield's committee that is considering the advisability of starting a "drive" for a Community Chest furnish food for much thought and discussion that should not be confined to the members of the committee. Not only is the question of the advisability of a Community Chest under consideration but there is also, as a part of this question, that of what should be included in the Community Chest. If one is decided upon. The Freeman has already made plain the fact that a Community Chest that proposes to provide for food and frills the only effect of which is to provide a good job for somebody is doomed to failure from lack of support by the public. Furthermore, any attempt to provide needlessly large funds for worthy institutions will result in failure for the whole plan. Individuals still have come forth that they have not surrendered to any official or committee and that they will not permit any organization, however good its intention, to usurp. The "community spirit" that we are constantly being urged to cultivate is an excellent thing up to the point where it attempts to restrict individual initiative, enterprise, rights or conscience, but any attempt to overstep the line is sure to meet with a rebuke that, though it may be delayed, will be all the more severe by reason of that delay, when it does come.

As great an error as the including of needless objects in a Community Chest is the including of needed and worthy institutions that should be supported by taxation. The Kingston City Library is an instance of this kind. A library, properly equipped and managed, is a necessary and essential part of the educational facilities of the city and should be owned and administered in the same way as the public schools. The present condition of the library is a disgrace to the city. The building is in need of repair, and there is too little left from the revenue after running expenses are paid to provide anyway near a sufficient number of new books. That the library could or could not obtain more funds were it differently managed is beside the question. It exists for the public needs, as part of the public system of education, and should be supported by the public, without resort to contributions or charity. With such support by the city should come control by the city, preferably through the board of education, and an administration of library affairs that would be responsible to the public instead of to a few persons who give little or no evidence of any real and intelligent interest in extending the usefulness of the institution.

The fact that the constructive minds of the country frequently do not bring their possessions into prominent public notice is illustrated in the career of the late E. W. McKenna, whose passing a few days ago closed the career of one of America's best informed men on railroad construction, operation and financing. Mr. McKenna began at the bottom in the railroad business, having served first as a telegraph messenger in 1862 when but 15 years of age. From one position to another he worked his way up by merit alone, having neither connections of influence nor the advantage of inherited wealth. His mind readily grasped and analyzed the essential facts regarding any business proposition confronting a railroad official, and his executive ability insured the success of his undertakings. It was largely due to his ability that the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway reached its highest point of efficiency. Although he had retired from active railroad work a few months prior to his death, he did not lose his interest in the welfare of the transportation system of the country, and it is generally known that he rendered valuable assistance to those gentlemen in Congress who were framing the railroad bill recently approved by the President, under which the railroads were returned to their private owners. Mr. McKenna was a Republican in politics and one of whom the party may well be proud, although he was never prominent in its national organization.

Senator J. S. Frelinghuysen of New Jersey recently made a statement regarding American finances which shows that the estimated expenditures for the fiscal year 1920-1921 amount to $9,000,000,000, while estimated revenues amount to only $4,000,000,000. It is manifest that either the estimated expenditures must be diminished, the estimated revenues increased, or bonds must be sold to make up the difference. The policy that shall be pursued must be determined by Congress, which is now Republican. The executive departments are responsible for the estimated expenditures which exceed the estimated revenues by $5,000,000,000. Congress has repeatedly attempted to cut the expenditures but at every point has met the opposition of the Democratic Administration. In its efforts to cut expenses, Congress needs the moral support of the taxpayers of the country. Citizens everywhere should write to their Representatives in the Senate and the House assuring them of their approval of the policy of retrenchment in Federal expenditures.

Prior to the war the railroads were buying from 2,500,000 to 3,000,000 tons of rails per year for use in extending or maintaining their tracks. During the past year under Government operation, the railroads used only 1,000,000 tons of rails for similar purposes. It is very evident, therefore, that on the return of the roads to their private owners the tracks are not up to the normal condition. The private owners must make increased expenditures during succeeding years in order to make up for the neglect which the roads suffered under Government operation.

RIVER ICE IS STILL HOLDING

Drop in Temperature During Night
Hindered Ice—Still Cutting at Ulster Landing—Hudson Creek Foot Bridges Taken Up—Other River Notes.

The ice in the Hudson river in this vicinity is still holding. Ice harvesting is still being continued at the H. T. Keeney house at Ulster Landing, and it will require several more days to fill the house. The drop in temperature during the night stiffened up the ice on the river here, and the crossing by automobile still is safe.

The ice in the lower Rondout creek seems to be breaking up slowly, and to avoid danger the foot bridges have been taken up for the season and the Skillypot is now raking in the pennies lost when pedestrians forsook the ferry to walk the ice back and forth to this city.

From Poughkeepsie comes the report that Highland is now cut off from that city. The ice in the Hudson river at that point is unsafe to travel on and passengers who are crossing do so at their own risk. The ice is expected to break the latter part of the week, under favorable weather conditions.

Thursday the Highland ferry made several attempts to cross the river but failed to do so. It reached the bridge but was forced to turn back. Many Highland people were compelled to remain home that day from business on account of the river ice not being safe.

Thursday the mail from Highland to Poughkeepsie had to be sent to Newburgh, then to Beacon and finally reached Poughkeepsie.

The ice bridges for foot passengers were taken up at Poughkeepsie Wednesday afternoon after a team of horses belonging to John A. Comerford, the express and truckman of Poughkeepsie, had broken through the ice about 100 feet from the Poughkeepsie shore, and only after hard work on the part of a number of employees of the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Company and some men from the New York Telephone Company were the animals pulled from the water.

The Saugerties and New York Steamboat Company boats made the first trips of the season last year on March 19. This season the Ida and Ulster have been repaired and inspected. On the opening of navigation the Ida will be the first on the route. Both boats will be painted at Saugerties before going into commission. The Ulster is berthed at Newburgh and the Ida at Jersey City.

TAX REVISION NOW DOUBTFUL

Congress Divided On Houston's Request For Immediate Action—Raney Says Would Take Many Months—Redraft Dangerous Says Longworth.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, March 19.—Revision of taxes during the present session of Congress is doubtful.

Although Secretary of the Treasury Houston has declared tax law revision is an immediate necessity to the prosperity of the country, it was apparent today that wide differences of opinion exist on this question. Conflicting economic theories apparently will prove a barrier to rapid revision of the present tax laws.

"It is impossible for the committee to do all that is asked of it by the secretary at the present session of Congress," Representative Henry T. Rainey of Illinois, member of the ways and means committee, said.

To enact all the new laws requested would require many months and the present session of Congress would have to be extended indefinitely.

Other Democratic members of the committee feel, however, that existing laws can be satisfactorily adjusted within a short time.

"We have known for months of the inequalities of the present laws and we should be able to correct them without much delay," said Representative Hull.

Among some members of the committee there is opposition to any attempt to arrange new taxes to fill the revenue losses caused by the supreme court decision.

"We did not pass legislation to make up the loss we legislated for in the passage of the national prohibition amendment," said Representative Longworth, Republican, of Ohio. "It is a question whether we should take action to counteract a loss due to a supreme court decision. Taxation of undivided profits of corporations and an excess tax on stock dividends will be the questions before us. I believe it might be dangerous at this time to redraft our tax system in any way. It might be well for us to begin consideration of means to simplify the present scheme of taxation."

The committee will consider the redrafting of finance legislation, but the probability of the house passing a bill at this session is remote," commented Representative Irish, Democrat, of Georgia.

STANDINGS IN BOYS' HEXATHLON

First Two Events Brought Out Good Jumpers and Midget Brown Proves Star Point Getter—Next Contest Tomorrow.

A part of the high standard policy and program of athletic activities conducted at the Y. M. C. A. includes this year for the first time the boys' hexathlon, a series of six athletic events. So as not to work a hardship on the youths, the events are divided among three Saturdays. Last week the events held were a short potato race and the running high jump. For the most part some very exceptional work was exhibited and the rivalry was close and intense all the way.

So that each boy will have an equal chance in competition, the competitors are divided into weight classes. In the lightest class, the 60 to 80 pounds, Eric Brown, the diminutive High School boy, was the winner, scoring 174 out of a possible 200. In fact, young Brown scored more points than the boys in all other class weights. The 80 to 95 pound class was won by Pat Gallagher, one of the employed boys, he scored 136, winning by the narrow margin of 1 point over John W. Haver, Jr. E. Messinger, the school 2 athlete, was winner of the 95 to 110 class Robert Corrigan, also of school 2, was winner of the 110 to 125 class, which had more competitors than any other class. The unlimited weight class was won by Jovial Fred Dressel, with 145 points. Exceptional form was shown by Dressel and Schryver in the high jump, each jumping 4 feet 11 inches and 4 feet 10 inches, respectively.

The next events which will be held at 9 o'clock on Saturday morning, March 20, will be the target throw, 8 pound shot put and the standing broad jump. The summary of last week's two events follows:

60 to 80 Pound Class.

Twenty yard potato race—Won by Stumpf and Rice, 5-1 seconds. Second, E. Brown, Bruhn and DuBois. Running high jump—Won by E. Brown, 4 feet. Second, Rice, Jenkins and Stumpf, 3-10.

AT THE THEATRES.

Elsie Janis Delights Crowds—Houdini Proves Thrilling At Keene's.

Photoplay "fans" have a great treat in store for them tonight at both the Opera House and Keene's. The Prince Ilma Quartette in a new program of songs and Houdini the master escape artist in the most thrilling and daring photoplay ever attempted, "The Grim Game," a picture of astounding situations which will be shown only two more times tonight. On Saturday Keene's will offer Alice Joyce in "The Vengeance of Durand," a Rex Beach story, read by millions.

Elsie Janis, friend of the soldier boys, opened to a large and delighted audience at the Kingston Opera House yesterday where this great photoplay is running yet today and Saturday under the auspices of Kingston Post No. 150, American Legion. Miss Janis lives up to her reputation of "A Regular Girl" which is the title of the photoplay and the crowds all claimed it a "corking good picture." It is a swiftly moving comedy-drama that affords the star unusual opportunities for the display of her original talents. "Buddies we'll meet you at the Opera House tonight and tomorrow."

Margaretta Fisher in "The Tiger Lily" will be the attraction at the Auditorium tonight, also a Gale Henry Comedy and Fox news weekly. Tomorrow Mary Mac Laren in "Rings and Riches."

One of the features Manager Cohen of Columbia Minstrels tries to excel in every season is the singing of chorus solo and quartette numbers with this popular organization. This season some especially strong feature soloists have been engaged and one of the best quartettes in the minstrel world. Feature headline acts, a screaming comedy farce by Charley Gano with that prince of comedians in the stellar role, embracing the entire company, the beautiful first part scenic spectacle "Farewell America" and a fine corps of dancers, comedians and fun folks complete what is said to be the strongest and best attraction ever produced by this capable amusement enter. They will appear at the Kingston Opera House on Tuesday midweek and night.

She was very pleasantly surprised, last week, by receiving two gifts of plants, one a beautiful palm from the Epworth League and a large jar of hyacinth, in full bloom from the Junior League of which she is the superintendent. Mrs. Smith greatly appreciates the gifts.

At Dual Indoor Track Meet Tonight
—Y Athletes With Envious Records Will Participate.

Final arrangements are rapidly being completed for the dual indoor athletic meet between the Y. M. C. A. and Co. M track teams at the armory tonight. A great deal of interest is being shown between adherents of both organizations. Without a doubt a number of close and interesting races and exciting competition will be carried on by the rival teams. As each team is limited to four men in each event there will be no tedious delays for elimination of the "also rans." The order of events for the athletic meet is as follows: 40 yard dash, trial heats; 12 pound shot put, 40 yard dash finals, 600 yard dash, standing broad jump, 300 yard dash, running high jump, 800 yard relay race.

The meet, which is scheduled to start at 8 o'clock, is free and open to the public, who are cordially invited to attend and urge on their favorites. During the past month both Company M and the Y. M. C. A. have held indoor athletic meets, so that the contestants of tonight are well trained, tried and proven athletes. Phineas Dierck, Dillinger, of the Y. M. C. A. announces that among the Triangle team will be Larry Goldberg, the Bronx speed artist; Tom Rowland, Art Jones, the old Kingston Academy star, Watt Wheeler, of the same school; McIntyre, Ketterson, Dunbar, Smith and Scott, who have proven their ability in association athletics, also Beeres, Messinger, Harman, Lehner and Gregory, who from time to time have given satisfactory proof of their ability as athletes. In the high jump the association team is pinning their hopes on W. H. Gill, who showed such exceptional form at the recent athletic meet for returned soldiers and sailors. The Company M team has a distinct advantage in using such experienced men as Carl Preston, Charles Behrens, Henry Pieken and Marty Hagenlocker. In addition to these stars a number of "dark horses" will aid the armory team.

The winner of the meet will be decided by the team securing the highest number of points, which will be scored: 5 points for first, 3 points for second and 1 point for third, the winning team to be presented with a felt banner giving the date and occasion of the meet. Through the generosity of certain members of the Company M team, ribbons will be given in each event for first, second and third places.

Competent officials will be in charge to rush the events along so as to eliminate any tedious delays.

KRUMVILLE

Krumville, March 18—On account of the very severe weather, our minister, the Rev. Braithwaite, has not been with us for about two months. We hope to soon be able to have church once again.

A number of the families of this place have been quarantined by the board of health for scarlet fever. These families who are afflicted are S. H. Davis, Charles Merrihue and Jervis Burgher. We all hope for their speedy recovery.

There has been no school for a few days on account of sickness in the family of our teacher, Mrs. S. Merrihue.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Daniels and family of Shokan are spending a short time with Mrs. Daniel's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Krum, of this place.

It seems rather late in the year for skating, nevertheless our young people of this place gathered together last Monday evening to enjoy a coasting and skating party.

Nathan Davis of Olive Bridge made a business trip to Samsonville and this place on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Donohue made a business trip to Kerkonkson the past week.

Mrs. John Heiser of Brown's Station and Mrs. Hattie Wager of Shokan spent Monday with Mr. and Mrs. Isidiah Wager.

Some signs of spring are here, pussy willows being found a few days past.

Miss Feroi Burgher has been spending some time with her sister, Mrs. E. Slikworth, of Olive Bridge. Miss Burgher spent considerable more time than expected as she was snowed in.

Our new mail carrier, Elmer Davis of Tonawanda, has made his trips each day most regular although the roads have been nearly impassable.

Mrs. Clarence Donohue and daughters, Ruth and Edna spent last Sunday afternoon with Mrs. E. Krum and family.

Mrs. Ellen Owens spent the week end with her sister, Mrs. S. Van Dermark.

Miss Pearl Davenport spent the past Wednesday evening with her friend, Miss Helen Davis.

Arthur Oakley who is employed at Bernside, spent Friday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. E. Krum and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Eckert of Olive Bridge, spent one day of the past week with Mrs. Eckert's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Merrihue.

New Auto Bill.

Another bill, aimed to check the state wide thefts of automobiles was introduced in the assembly by Colonel Ransom M. Gillett, Republican, of Columbia county. Colonel Gillett's bill would require every automobile vehicle to be equipped with an identification device to be attached to the steering wheel in plain view. The device, the bill provides, would be furnished by the secretary of state's automobile bureau at a cost of $1.

Cord Of Thanks.

I wish to express my sincere thanks to all my friends and neighbors who were so kind during the illness and death of my beloved husband and especially to those who sent the beautiful floral offerings.

Lomontville, March 18—It is with deep sorrow that we announce the death of Mrs. Mary Handwerker, who died last Saturday from influenza and pneumonia. Our sympathies are extended to her family.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Arnold, who have purchased the Terwilliger farm at Altaville, plan to move from this place about April 1.

Among our Kingston visitors this past week are Foster Winchell, John Van Wagonen and wife, David Van Wagonen, Jr., and Mrs. Hangerford. William Osterhout has gone to Middletown, where he has secured a position with a building concern. Harry Whitaker is now working for the Willis farm.

Mrs. Chester Stratton and daughter, Miss Blanche Fox, spent a day this week with Mrs. L. J. Barker.

After 45 days of sleighing the mountain road is now ready for stock from here to Stone Ridge last Tuesday. He had Harry Jones and Chas. Robinson helping him. A number from this place visited Mrs. Arthur Winchell and mother. They report Mrs. Sarah Winchell improving.

MAGIC OF LAW PUTS MILLIONS IN 9 POCKETS

Forgotten Poor Cousins Share in Estate of Wealthy Oil Man.

Wealth Comes to Aged People Whose Lives Have Been Largely Filled With Hardships—Hunt for Heirs Is Difficult.

Wheaton, Ill. — Satisfied smiles spread over nine faces in the corridors of the red courthouse here recently, for nine persons, whose lives had been largely filled with hardships, knew that within a few weeks they would be rich. Rich is the only applicable word—wealth to these people had been nothing but a dream.

Judge S. L. Rathje of the DuPage county court had just indicated that five of the nine were legal heirs to the $3,000,000 estate of William P. Cowan, former president of the Standard Oil company of Indiana, who died at his Wheaton country home in the summer of 1918. The other four were husbands and wives of the heirs.

Nine to Share $2,500,000.

With the establishment of heirship by the five relatives of the wealthy oil man the total number of heirs who will receive a share of the estate is nine. After expenses have been deducted, according to attorneys, the estate will total more than $2,500,000.

Each of the nine heirs will receive something like $200,000 when the inheritance taxes are paid.

Three of the heirs are more than seventy years of age one is ninety, the youngest is forty-four years old.

None of them remember personally the man whose death brought them this benefaction. But two ever saw him. They look upon their inheritance as some vague dream of paradise.

The heirs who established their claims are:

William Saxton, seventy-two years old, Eagle, Mich.

Walter Saxton, seventy-two years old, Waukegan, Mich.

Charles Saxton, sixty-eight years old, Elsie, Mich.

Mrs. Caroline Saxton Hart, fifty-eight years old, Grand Lodge, Mich.

Mrs. R. B. Colby, forty-four years old, Cadillac, Mich.

William and Walter Saxton are twins. William is married and his wife was in Wheaton with him. Mrs. Colby and Mrs. Hart had their husbands along, too.

Other Cowan Heirs.

The other heirs who have established sufficient evidence of relationship to Mr. Cowan to win an indication of equity from Judge Rathje are:

Judson Phelps, ninety years old, Detroit, Mich.

Henry B. Stillwell, seventy years old, Gloversville, N. Y.

William G. Stillwell, seventy-two years old, Springfield, Mass.

Heirs at law of Mrs. Helen Shadbolt, Plymouth, N. Y., who was ninety-five years old when she died a few weeks ago.

All of the heirs are cousins—first, second, or third. No nearer kin could be found by Alfred C. Hoy, public administrator of DuPage county.

The day's hearing before Judge Rathje did not close the case. A few more depositions must be taken, a few more weeks must elapse before the jurist can enter a decree. But the Saxton boys are happy.

When in 1918 it was learned that Mr. Cowan, a successful business man and one of the rich residents of the Chicago Golf club colony at Wheaton, had died and left no will, Wheaton wondered. Then it was announced that there were no heirs in this state, Mrs. Cowan's death had preceded her husband's, and there were no children and no brothers or sisters.

Public Administrator Hoy took immediate charge of the estate and appointed Charles W. Hadley and George Thomas his attorneys. Mr. Hadley is state's attorney of DuPage county and has a weakness for flaring ties. Nine attorneys presented him with a new one in court.

For more than a year the only relatives Mr. Hoy could locate were the Stillwell boys, Judson Phelps, and Mrs. Shadbolt.

A few months ago one of the Saxton boys, Walter, read a newspaper article which referred to Mr. Cowan's death and his estate. A few days later the Saxton claim was entered.

The Saxtons claimed to be the children of two daughters of Peter Cowan, Carnegie county, N. Y., the grandfather of William P. Cowan.

Their claim was established by a marriage license, census reports, old tintypes and testimony. One of the tintypes was Mr. Cowan when he was three years old. Another Saxton said he was born in the Cowan home. But further than that they had no personal recollection of their wealthy relative.

Views on Liquor.

Walter and William Saxton are interested in airplanes, but they don't believe they will spend much of their fortune on the aircraft.

"You can get a drink of red eye or an airplane ride for $25," said Walter. "I believe the airplane ride would be the best. You can get the same results from either one. They'll both kill you."

Walter and Mr. Hart have been taken to different countries ever since they can remember.

"We been beryne" on fast as they'd die," said Mr. Hart. "But I reckon we'll retire now. Maybe not though."

Mrs. Colby isn't sure what she'll do with her money. Neither is Mrs. Charles Saxton sure what she will do with her husband's, but Elsie, Mich., is going to have some thrills, she said. "I guess we could all go in the morning picture business," said Mrs. Caroline Hart. (She doesn't like to be called Carrie.) "But maybe we'll all retire now."

"Pretty hard to quit work," said William Saxton, "we've been working so long. Gee, I'm kinda glad we heard about it, though. No, I ain't got no daughters for any one to marry."

Mrs. Charles Saxton said she had two daughters, but thought they could take care of themselves.

Meantime 11 lawyers, who have been in the litigation, were conferring in the judge's chambers on a tombstone to be erected over Mr. Cowan's grave.

"I hope them lawyers leaves us some of the money," said Walter.

DOG SEEKS AID FOR DYING

Whines in Vain to Obtain Help for Mistress Who Dies Suddenly.

Los Angeles.—Doughboy, a pedigreed bulldog, owned by T. C. Stevens of the bond firm of Stevens, Page & Sterling, was credited with an almost human attempt to summon help when Mrs. Stevens' aunt, Mrs. C. F. Endly, died suddenly at San Diego.

The dog, a thoroughbred in which the owner takes considerable pride, was left in Mrs. Endly's care by Mrs. Stevens.

During the night Mr. Endly was awakened by Doughboy. The dog was whining and moaning with such persistence that Mr. Endly fearing his wife would be disturbed, went to the door and calling softly to the dog finally induced him to go into the other room. Doughboy exhibited a strange restlessness, resisting all efforts to quiet him. The man was puzzled. Only after a considerable time did he induce Doughboy to lie down. Then Mr. Endly went to sleep.

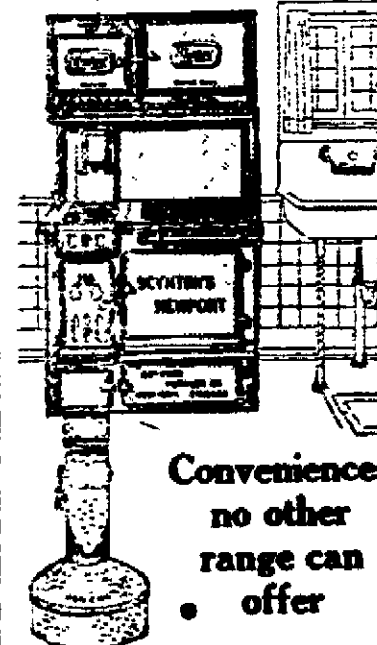

In the morning he found his wife's lifeless body. Doctors were immediately called. They pronounced it a case of heart failure and declared that Mrs. Endly had been dead several hours.

After Whooping Cough—What?

This is No. 4 of a series of advertisements, prepared by a competent physician, explaining how certain diseases which attack the air passages—such as Pneumonia, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Measles or even a long continued Cold—often leave these organs in an inflamed, congested state, thus affording a favorable foothold for invading germs. And how Vick's Vapo-Rub may be of value in this condition.

Whooping cough is the "meanest" disease that childhood is heir to. While rarely fatal in itself, except to children under two years of age, still it hangs on so long—the coughing paroxysms are so violent, preventing proper sleep and digestion—that when the disease does disappear it leaves the child weakened and run down. In addition the violent coughing racks and strains the air passages and after recovery this irritation frequently remains.

During this period of convalescence the child should be most carefully watched until full strength is restored and the air passages regain their normal tone. A prominent authority even goes so far as to say—"There is more criminal neglect in connection with whooping cough than with any other disease."

While the disease is active, Vick's VapoRub usually helps to lessen the violence of the coughing, but it is during convalescence that Vick's is most valuable.

Because Vick's acts locally by stimulation thru the skin to draw out the inflammation, attract the blood away from the congested spots and relieve the cough. In addition the medicinal ingredients of Vicks are vaporized by the body heat. These vapors are breathed in all night long, thus bringing the medication to bear directly upon the inflamed areas.

Vicks should be rubbed in over the throat and chest until the skin is red—then spread on thickly and covered with hot flannel cloths. Leave the clothing loose around the neck and the bed clothes arranged in the form of a funnel so the vapors arising may be freely inhaled. If the cough is annoying swallow a small bit the size of a pea.

Children's digestions are delicate—easily disturbed by too much "dosing." Vicks, therefore, is particularly recommended, since it is externally applied and so can be used often and freely without the slightest harmful effects.

Samples to new users will be sent free on request to the Vick Chemical Company, 234 Broad Street, Greensboro, N. C.

Polish Artist Tells of Misery, Especially Among Middle Classes.

FOOD OUT OF THEIR REACH

Workers Make Apparently Huge Amounts, but Are Obligated to Spend It All on Their Living—Children Suffer Most.

New York.—Nicol Schatenstein, a Polish portrait painter, who has just arrived from Vienna, said that the reason why he left the Austrian capital to come to America was because of the misery he had witnessed for four years and his desire to join his family, who are American citizens. He expects to become an American citizen, too.

"The worst sufferers in Vienna," the painter said in an interview, "are those of the middle class, because they cannot afford to pay the high prices demanded for food. The working man is well paid, but he has to spend it on food to keep himself and his family. Thousands of the children of the masses have been sent to Italy and Switzerland to be fed, but the unfortunate children of the middle class remain in Vienna to share the hunger of their parents. When I passed through Holland two weeks ago the working people there were giving one guilder, or 40 cents American money, for the starving children of Vienna."

Pay Barber More Than Professor. "A barber's assistant in Vienna," Mr. Schatenstein continued, "receives 40,000 kroner a year (about $9,000 in pre-war days), and has to spend it all to live in an ordinary way. Compare this with the 12,000 kroner paid to professors of the universities in Austria and the 5,000 to 8,000 kroner a year paid to schoolmasters and office clerks. How can they exist in a city where food is scarce and dearer than it is in New York? I had plenty of money, but did not have an egg once a month. Milk I never saw. Butter was rare and dear. Meat could be had in the restaurants in small portions and potatoes on rare occasions. Bread was scarce and so poor that only persons with the digestion of ostriches could eat it. I could never find out exactly what it was composed of except that there was scarcely any flour. Wood, straw, rye and dried bushes were all chopped up fine and baked into a hard cake to be sold as bread.

"The poor could eat dog sausage, and the rich could buy horse sausage, but I could never accustom myself to eat such food. Instead, I went hungry often with money in my pocket. "During one of the hunger riots in the city last winter, I saw the mob knock a police officer off his horse and shoot the animal. Half an hour later the carcass had been cut up and carried off by the famine-stricken citizens.

Lack of Coal Causes Misery. "One chief source of the misery in Vienna was the lack of coal, because the poor could have neither heat nor light. The glassware, porcelain and leather factories were unable to keep going because there was no fuel to drive their machinery. Only the wealthy have a warm bath once a week and burn one electric light for five hours a day when there is enough coal to drive the dynamos in the power houses. Multi-millionaires told me that I was a fortunate man when I was leaving for America.

"I was not in sympathy with Austria in the war, but I think that in the name of our common humanity something should be done for the starving men, women and children of Vienna, especially the middle classes, who are the greatest sufferers.

"Just before I left the capital city the doctors in the hospitals went on strike because scrubwomen received higher pay than physicians or surgeons.

"The peasants in the country have food, but they will not send it to Vienna because they do not like a socialist form of government. Some of the best stores in Vienna keep open in the daytime and have fine artistic articles displayed in the windows, but if one enters to buy them the proprietor, or one of his clerks, says that they are not for sale. He will take orders for goods to be delivered when coal arrives and the factories start up again."

FIRST CAPTURE BY YANKS

Two Michigan Men Lead in the Taking of German Prisoners in the War.

Washington.—The first German prisoner taken by American forces was captured by Adam Bismarck and John Cichanski of Ironwood, Mich. Representative James of Michigan was informed by Adjutant General Harris.

The men were members of company C, Eighteenth Infantry.

The capture was made on the night of October 27-28, 1917, in the vicinity of Barre, in the province of Meuse and Moselle. The prisoner was a company mail carrier and was on his way back to his company when wounded and captured.

THEY TOOK HER LITERALLY

But Probably Musical Comedy Star Did Not Mean Just What She Threatened.

A popular musical comedy star was taking her summer vacation in a New England village this year, and good naturedly agreed to participate in an "entertainment" to be given at the town hall for the benefit of local charities. She procured from New York one of the costumes from her last winter's show, and a fetching poster showing herself in that same costume. Soon after the poster was on display a delegation of village ladies waited upon the committee of gentlemen who were engineering the entertainment and protested against the chic costume of the poster, which was, in fact, that of the conventional "prince" of musical comedy, with a frank if pleasing display of silk-encased limbs.

"Let's send for Miss de Lancy and see if we can't fix it up," a committeeman suggested, and this was done.

New, besides being good natured, Miss de Lancy is high-spirited, and rather thought that the costume which had been good enough for her to appear in for some hundreds of times in New York would do for one appearance in Hildesville.

"There is no use talking," she announced with decision, "I'll appear in that costume or nothing!"

There was a moment of horrified silence, then quick whispering among the lady delegation, and a moment later their protest against the proposed costume was withdrawn.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Sea Otter's Fur Valuable.

A coat or cloak of genuine sea otter is worth more than its weight in gold. While the skins of the ordinary freshwater otter have no particular value in the fur market, the pelt of the true sea otter is today the most valuable of all furs. The sea otter was formerly found in considerable abundance off the coast of Alaska, but it is now nearly if not quite extinct.

ALBANY HOPES ICE WILL HOLD

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Albany, N. Y., March 19.—This city faces the worst flood in its history if the ice jam now resting at Van Wie's Point, just south of the city, moves south to Castleton and forms a gorge. Captain Usher Davis of Rensselaer, river expert for the state department of public works, said late last night, "Albany's hope lies in the holding of the jam at Van Wie's Point, thus preventing a gorge at Castleton," said Captain Davis. "If it lodges at Castleton nothing can prevent a terrible flood." Central is where the New York Central railroad company wants to build a railroad bridge with piers in the river. The big ice pack that had been lying abreast of Albany for a day, passed on yesterday afternoon as far as Van Wie's Point, where it lodged. The water along the river front is nearly a foot higher than on Wednesday and at midnight showed no signs of falling. At that hour it was eight feet above normal. The water is nearly a foot over the Delaware and Hudson railroad tracks in Maiden Lane; Quay street is covered from one to two feet from the Recreation pier. Tugs are standing by the big river steamers and crews kept on the look out all night. Residents of the lower part of the city passed an uneasy night fearing the ice jam would back the water over the south end at any time. The river is clear from Troy to Van Wie's Point.

Jail Delivery Foiled.
By Telegram to The Freeman.
Rochester, N. Y., March 19.—An attempted jail delivery at the Monroe county jail was prevented at an early hour today when Deputy Sheriff Brandenburg discovered a prisoner sawing the iron bars on the window of his cell. The man, Joseph D. Hungerford, of Scranton, Pa., had sawed through one bar and had nearly completed the job on another. It developed that four others were involved in the plan to escape.

Blames Movies for H. C. of I.
By Telegram to The Freeman.
Baltimore, March 19.—The movies were blamed as one of the reasons for the high cost of living today by one of the members of the fair price commission, Mr. Bleumman. Although a movie fan himself, Mr. Bleumman threatens a crusade against women "who attend theater in the afternoon and then dash home just in time to throw the steak or chops on the skillet without looking to see what the butcher had sent them."

Fatal Transport Accident.
By Telegram to The Freeman.
San Francisco, Cal., March 19.—Two men aboard the United States army transport President Grant, bound for Vladivostok, are dead today, following a fire of mysterious origin in the transport's hold. The blaze, as reported in meager wireless dispatches received at army transport headquarters, is much the same as that which recently forced the transport Mount Vernon back from her voyage from Russia.

Recent Edwards's Action.
By Telegram to The Freeman.
Newark, N. J., March 19.—Governor Edwards has spotted a perfect good fortune of July celebration for Ocean Grove. Ocean Grove, long a haven for prohibitionists, took offense at the governor's signing the "beer bill," and today announced that it had called off the independence day celebration rather than follow the annual custom of having New Jersey's governor as the guest of honor.

Boston Labor Prospects.
By Telegram to The Freeman.
Boston, March 19.—The economic sun is beginning to shine so brightly for laborers here that already 5,000 families have migrated from apartment houses and into the better class apartment houses. This fact was revealed to the city planning board today by Deputy Health Commissioner Jordan. It was assigned by Jordan as the prime factor in the present apartment house congestion.

GEDDES' RISE
REMARKABLE

New British Ambassador, Who Will Reach Here In April, Disclosed Such Talents During War That From Canadian College Tutor He Became Second To Lloyd-George.

By Telegrams to The Freeman.

London, March 19.—Sir Auckland Geddes, British ambassador-elect to the United States, hopes to be in Washington by the middle of April, winding up his work at the board of trade, where he conceived the plan for rehabilitating Europe, including the extension of economic aid to Germany, which has kept him exceedingly busy.

Premier Lloyd-George is parting with Sir Auckland's cabinet services reluctantly. Many persons profess to make no secret of the fact that Sir Auckland stands almost head and shoulders above most of the premier's other colleagues in the ministry, both in breadth of mental outlook and strength of character.

Sir Auckland differs from his brother, Sir Eric, who is regarded as an organizing genius and "a one sided man."

Sir Auckland has been one of the premier's chief bulwarks. A Canadian professor of anatomy who joined up with the colors early in the war, he was practically unknown here in 1916. He was severely wounded in one of the battles on the Somme and was convalescing when Lloyd-George, sweeping clean with his new broom as premier, desired to remedy British recruiting and "clean out the funk holes." The French had alleged that the British were not recruiting all their available men.

Sir Auckland, with two years of trench warfare to his credit, became director of recruiting at the British war office and his work was so thorough that even the French were satisfied.

He became minister of national service, then president of the local government, one of the foremost posts in the British cabinet. Still later he was appointed minister of reconstruction, when it became necessary to deal with post-war problems. Finally he was appointed president of the board of trade to get Britain's industries and commerce going once more.

Sir Auckland is a big man physically—six feet tall and broad shouldered. He has the appearance of ruggedness with a strong jaw and big hands. His hair is thin and he is partially bald. The only student-like thing about him are his deep-set eyes behind large horn rimmed glasses.

Sir Auckland's friends say he is not "a bit aloof or upstartish."

This transition from an obscure university professor of anatomy to a soldier and then to statesman was full of action.

In religion Sir Auckland is a tolerant Protestant. In chess he is careless and indifferent. In business he is direct and frank. One of his warm admirers in England is Viscountess Nancy Astor. She has given him her full support in political matters and is reported to have urged his appointment as British ambassador upon Premier Lloyd George.

Sir Auckland's wife is a retiring "home maker" who finds all her time taken up looking after her family. She does not care for society. She is an Irish-American by birth.

Wanted the "Sweeper."

My little cousin was over to our house one day. Upon looking around the bathroom, she saw the toothbrush in the holder and remarked to my mother: "Auntie, give me one of those. I want to sweep my teeth."—Chicago American.
